

CONNECTIONS

Listed below are 20 different connections players can choose to connect their characters together at the start of a game. Each of these establishes a bond between characters that will enhance roleplaying. It's recommended that each player at the table choose a connection for their character, but they shouldn't choose someone who has already chosen them. Spread them around.

- You have my unwavering loyalty because you saved my life. (What did you do?)
- We've been fooling around, but keeping it quiet. (Is it serious or casual? Why hide it?)
- We knew each other in our youth, but have now become reacquainted. (Why so long apart?)
- You discovered a dangerous secret about me, but have kept it quiet so far. (What's the secret?)
- You seem naïve and inexperienced, so I've taken you under my wing. (Is this appreciated, tolerated, or annoying?)
- We lost someone we both cared about because neither of us could save them. (Who did we lose and how did it happen?)
- We once got really drunk and rowdy together and ended up spending the night in jail. (Where did this happen and what did we do?)
- I saw you do something underhanded, so now I don't trust you. (What happened?)
- We pick on each other constantly, but we have each other's back when it matters. (Does everyone else think we hate each other?)
- Our backs were against the wall in a hopeless situation, but together we made it out alive. (What happened?)
- I'm determined to get revenge for something in my past, but you hold me back from following through. (Who do I want revenge on and why do you try and stop me?)
- We share a love of some obscure thing that no one else really gets. (What is it? Food? Entertainment? Music?)
- I had a fling with one of your family members and I think you still might be mad about it. (Who was it and is it still a problem?)
- I owe you something big, but I'm not sure I can repay you. (What is it I owe you and why?)
- You're unaware of the fact that we're actually family. (What's the relationship and why don't you know?)
- I look up to you and go to you for advice when I need guidance. (Why do I admire you?)
- We've been rivals since the day we met, always trying to one-up each other. (What do we compete over?)
- Your friendship pulled me out of a dark place and got me back on track. (Why was I lost and what did you do to help me?)
- We started working together after we were betrayed by the same person/group/organization. (Who betrayed us and why?)
- I have been in love with you for a long time. (Do you return those feelings?)
